Research Projects

2018 Hair Recommendation System Based on Face Recognition

National Innovation Project of University Students

- Used deep learning to train face recognition models to quickly extract facial features, and it was suitable for Android smartphones
- Used the recommendation algorithm to compare the matching degree between the face and the hairstyle for hairstyle recommendation
- Enhanced user experience and enabled users to make adjustments to the recommended hairstyle, such as modifying the length, amending the curl, and dyeing

2018 Android APP-BillWiz Journal APP

- Used Java and XML to develop a billing record Android application, which can record and display consumption by bar chart, pie chart, by date, and by label
- Improved the user's experience of recording bills, optimized various classification and display modes, and developed a function which can generate billing records by taking photos
